MEET THE WOMEN OF THE INDUSTRY

Women of the Industry

FLCAJ is excited to present the first "Women of the Industry" feature. We have long recognized the critical role that many women play in the community association industry—from community management to business leadership, the number of women in decision-making roles is accelerating. With that in mind, we invite you to take note of these exceptional women. Almost all facets of the industry are represented here: community managers, and professionals in fields such as asphalt, banking, legal, professional organizations, roofing, engineering, educators, etc. These women have made an impact on the community association industry in Florida, and they have each made a difference in their respective fields. They are deserving of our congratulations and recognition.
